THE CIVIL POPULATION IN BERLIN CHEER

German Reply to Wilson Issued to Them

(By Associated Press)
London, Sunday, Oct. 13.—When workers quit the factories in the suburbs of Berlin on Saturday night many thousands of men and women thronged to the center of the city and waited for hours for the German reply to President Wilson, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. Extra editions of the text were issued at 10 o'clock and were received with enthusiasm, many women bursting into tears.

FRENCH LIBERATE 6500 CIVILIANS

(By Associated Press)
Paris, Oct. 14.—Sixty-five hundred civilians were liberated when the French troops entered Laon it was officially stated tonight. The French have passed far beyond the town on the whole front between Oise and the Alps Rivers.

THE WEATHER

Washington, Oct. 14.—Fair and cooler tonight with freezing temperature in exposed places in the interior; Tuesday fair. Light northwest winds.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 14.—Germany's reply to President Wilson reached the Swiss legation in official form by cable this morning. It was in German text, a translation of which was identical with that received by wireless Saturday. Instead of taking the note directly to the White House as he did Prince Maximilian's peace plea, Frederick Oederlin, Swiss charge, communicated with the State Department. He was asked to present it to Secretary Lansing at 11.15 o'clock. In the meantime President Wilson had called Secretaries Lansing and Baker to the White House for a conference. The President and Mr. Lansing had been considering the German communication since Saturday night when the unofficial text reached them, and Secretary Baker, just back from France, was prepared to give first hand information about the situation at the battlefront which has brought about the German eagerness for peace.

London, Oct. 14.—No temporary armistice nor any armistice at all unless accompanied by Germany's unconditional surrender is the dominant note in most of the comments on the peace situation in this morning's newspapers.

Secretary Daniels joined the White House conference. The President and his advisers were together for nearly two hours, then the cabinet officers, and Col. House walked over to the State War and Navy Building, leaving the President alone in his study where nearly all of his notes and utterances have been drafted. The Swiss Charge appeared at the State Department shortly after the appointed time and delivered the note without comment. Col. House was in Secretary Lansing's office at the time. A few minutes later the note was in the hands of the President. A State Department messenger took it to the White House as soon as Secretary Lansing had read the document and found it did not differ from the wireless version.

DISCUSS PEACE IN SENATE

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 14.—Discussion of Germany's peace reply in the Senate was opened by Senator New, of Indiana, Republican, who declared nothing short of unconditional surrender of the German Army will meet the demands of the American people. Senator Thomas of Colorado, Democrat, introduced a resolution stipulating that no peace pact be entered into by the United States with the Germans without a specific recognition of the rights of both governments for the Slavonic and Polish people.

At least a dozen cities and towns have been destroyed.

Pershing in his communication for Sunday.

(By Associated Press)
London, Oct. 11.—While certain developments are taking place the Central News Agency says it learns it can be said that the British government will oppose the granting of any armistice to Germany unless absolute guarantees both military and naval are forthcoming.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe, and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. When ever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

"Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

EXETER

Exeter, Oct. 14.—"Liberty Day" Saturday, was quietly passed here, it being especially observed by raising the service flag with the number 131 being increased to 257, and five gold stars for the five who have given their lives for the cause. They are Lieut. Kenneth E. Fuller, Corporal Almon I. Pingree, Arthur W. Coleman and Earl W. Covey and Miss Katherine Irwin, the latter being a nurse who died from illness. The flag is suspended from the town hall on the Front street side.

The unofficial list of wounded Saturday contained the names of Lieut. Eugene Galligan of Roxbury, Mass., who was the first military instructor at the Phillips Exeter academy, coming here in the autumn of 1916, and was succeeded by Lieut. James T. Kelley. Lieut. Galligan was a member of Company J, 308th Infantry. He came here from the Harvard training school.

Two deaths reported Saturday were those of Mrs. Sarah E. Tinsy of Kensington, widow of Charles Roby, 82 years of age. She was a native of that town, her maiden name being Dow. She is daughter of Newell Dow. She is sur-vided by a son Charles and a daughter, Miss Carrie Roby, both of Kensington.

The other death was that of Mrs. Alberta Roby, aged 29 years, wife of Frank J. Roby of Hampton Falls. She was a native of Amesbury, Mass., and a daughter of John E. Renick.

The funeral of Mrs. Roby, of Kensington was held Sunday afternoon in charge of Undertaker J. Warren Prescott of Hampton Falls.

The funeral services of Mrs. Ellen Tewhill, aged 72 years, was held Saturday morning at the St. Michael's church, mass being conducted at 9 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. T. J. Scott. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker P. L. Jenkins.

FRENCH TROOPS

KEEP IN TOUCH

SHOULD SHOW MORE
RESPECT FOR OUR DEAD

Flags Should Be at Half Mast for Those Who Die in the Service.

It is about time that Portsmouth showed more respect and honor for the men from this city who have given their lives in defence of the flag.

Up to date three or more of them have met death in the performance of their duty in the service of the army and the flags of the city have not even been placed at half mast. There should be more feeling among our people for the men of the army and navy who have answered death call on the battlefield. Capt. Towle, Capt. Scott and Lieut. Boone have passed on. What has the city done in recognition of the honored dead? Not even a flag has been flying in the proper place. If nothing more, why not place the Stars and Stripes at half mast for three days in honor of these men and in the future for all others who may die in the service of the country.

STOPS BACKACHE

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or neuritis has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly and surely. It never disappoints!

Tune—John Brown.
We're building ships for Uncle Sam in Newington all right; His anxious call for "ships, more ships," Makes work a real delight; Our thro' is one—a vandal Hun Our glorious land shall blight. As we go marching on.

Chorus
Glory, glory Hallelujah,
Glory, glory Hallelujah,
Glory, glory Hallelujah,
As we go marching on.

RELIC TRAIN
WILL NOT STOP HERE

The Liberty Loan relic train, which was to have been sent to this city on Monday to boost the sale of Liberty bonds in this section, at the ship yards, navy yard and in this city, has been cancelled.

Chairman Sise, after a conference with the Public Health Service, found that they were opposed to the train being brought here for the reason that it will mean large crowds gathered in close quarters and with the present condition of the epidemic, which they thought would be dangerous. Mr. Sise cancelled the visit of the train to this city, informing Chairman Tobey of the omission of the Public Health Service.

There is only one more week of the Fourth Liberty Loan drive left, and this city has not gone over the top as yet. Up to Saturday night there was roughly $700,000 subscribed, but about $200,000 of this at least would be credited to other cities and towns so that there remains at least $500,000 still to be subscribed in this city.

The women's committee, who are to make a house to house canvass of the city, will begin their work this forenoon. Mrs. Daniel W. Badger is chairman of this work and they expect to make a good showing.

The teams who are canvassing the business section have been doing good work, clearing up $36,000 in one day. There will be a meeting of the captains at the Board of Trade rooms at 5 o'clock this evening to make arrangements for the final drive.

Nobody should be bluffed by the German peace move. It is no more sincere than any of their acts. Buy bonds and make the Fighting Fourth a success.

FRENCH HAVE CAPTURED LE FERRE, LAON AND ST. COBAIN

(By Associated Press)

The German battle line in France continues to bend under the attack of the Entente Allies, but nowhere has it been broken. The enemy all along the entire line is in retreat to new positions but his retreat is orderly and the British, French and Americans are fighting their way ahead against strong rear guard action by machine gun detachments.

Highly important positions have been wrested from the enemy along the principal battle line while to the south the Americans have been advancing their line on both sides of the Meuse river.

The British advance after a day of hard fighting has brought them to the town of Douai, which up to this has been the British front line. The center of which the military experts consider to be the key stone of the German line in northern Belgium.

The French, further south, have blotted out both the Le Ferre and Laon and have captured the greater portion of the St. Gobain massif. These were the most important positions the Germans held in this region and they were forced to give in to the mastery work of the French troops.

Through the success of the British and French the entire German zone from Rheims to the Belgian border is made decidedly unstable.

Along the Alsine in Champagne the French have made several crossings of the Alsine River and they are almost upon the important railroad line at Reims, whence it is only a step to Metz. This city is on the Valenciennes-Sedan line, often called the last known defense of the Germans on French soil. In the bend of the Alsine more than 26 localities have been liberated and several thousand civilians freed from bondage they have endured since 1914.

During this offensive they have captured 21,667 Germans and over 600 guns.

No statement as to the probable cause of the fire was made at the hospital today, but the impression among soldiers at the post seemed to be general that an open fireplace was responsible for the blaze. The fire had gained considerable headway when the alarm was given and it required a stiff fight upon the part of the fire department of the hospital to get it under control. After the alarm was given there was no disorder, but every precaution was taken to prevent the spread of flames to other units. The officers' quarters were located on Meridith road and on the opposite side is the officers' ward. A stream was played on the latter building and men with fire-fighting equipment patrolled the roofs of that and other nearby units to guard against sparks.

A call was sent to Railway and Elizabeth and at 2 o'clock the motor engine of Railway was on the way to the scene. Most of the Railway apparatus and some companies from Elizabeth went to the fire and assisted in putting out the blaze in the ruins of the officers' quarters. These quarters are located in a section remote from the quarters occupied by the patients from overseas, and the latter were in no danger, no were they disturbed by the fire.

The building destroyed occupied a large area and about thirty-five men were quartered there. It was a frame structure, but was fitted up elegantly, and a great proportion of the damage is represented in the furnishings destroyed.

The Mercy Committee did great work for the soldiers and firemen during the fire, brewing coffee and preparing sandwiches in the Mercy House and distributing the refreshments among the workers.

When it became known that Captain Walker and Captain Towle were missing, a frantic search was made for them and the firemen redoubled their efforts. The bodies were recovered early this morning. By 5 o'clock the fire was entirely out except for a few smoldering heaps of ruins.

FOREST FIRES TAKE HEAVY TOLL OF LIVES

(By Associated Press)

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 13.—Probably 500 persons dead and 1000 homeless and without food and clothing as the result of a whole section of northern Wisconsin and Minnesota being swept by forest fires today.

The bodies of 75 victims are in the morgue here, while hundreds are scattered along the road where they dropped when overcome by the on-rushing fire near this city and Superior.

Twelve hundred homeless and penniless are here in churches, hospitals, armories, etc., and the most of them require medical attention and every available physician and nurse is being mobilized.

IMPROVEMENT IN EPIDEMIC

The epidemic situation on Sunday was showing good improvement, there was a drop in the number of deaths and in the number of new cases and both the Public Health Service and the local physicians state that the peak has been passed and while there are a great many people sick in this city and surrounding towns, there are not as many new cases reported. They, however maintain that the greatest precautions must still be maintained for there is no ground for belief that it may not break out anew.

There were but eight deaths for the forty-eight hours up to midnight last night, a material falling off. The number of new cases being admitted to the Emergency hospital has also decreased and many of the patients are showing great improvement.

The Red Cross diet kitchen had two busy days, holiday and Sunday having no effect upon this good work. There has been slight falling off in the cases getting the service, Sunday dropping to seventy-five families, of which about fifteen were new cases. In the past two days there has been some thirty odd families dropped as being able to care for themselves and more will be dropped today. The service is being maintained to the people who have been sent back to their rooms from the hospital as convalescent, and more nourishing food is being furnished them to build up their strength. While the stores were closed on Sunday and Sunday the Red Cross were kept in supplies and some merchants opened their stores for special things wanted. Sunday there was a shortage of eggs and one business man went to Kittery and collected several dozen for immediate use.

There is great need of fresh eggs and oranges and these will be gratefully received at the kitchen.

Saturday and Sunday the result of the epidemic, the greatest in the history of the city, was apparent by the number of funerals, a continuous procession of funerals winding their way to the cemeteries, while a visit to the cemetery impresses one with the number of newly made graves everywhere.

The Germans Are Weakening.

Recent developments at the front have been so overwhelmingly in favor of the Allies and against the Germans that it is not strange that many should be led to feel that the end of the war is near at hand. It may be so, and all hope that it is, but it is not safe to assume that it is.

There is no doubt whatever that the armies of the enemy are weakening under the continuous rain of sledgehammer blows that has been poured upon them by the Allies for many weeks past. It is a remarkable fact that at no time since the battle turned have the Germans been able to make a successful stand at any point. They have been kept steadily moving toward home, suffering constant and severe losses, and there is much to indicate that they are becoming disheartened.

The Kaiser's recent peace feeler constituted evidence pointing in this direction. It made it plain that his fighting forces are in need of rest, but this they are not to receive until it comes from peace through victory. All of the Allies are agreed that this is no time for the slackening of pressure, which must be continued until the vast task in which they are engaged is finished.

There is some difference of opinion as to the character of President Wilson's brief reply to the German chancellor, who suggested an armistice for the purpose of discussion, but in London and Paris the reply is considered to have fully covered the ground, notwithstanding the fact that certain distinguished Americans fail to see it in that light. The President will listen to no talk of an armistice until the Germans are out of all invaded territory, and without doubt the majority of the people are satisfied with the strength of that position.

This is a time for optimism, but not for overconfidence. There can be no doubt as to how the war will end, but it is not yet ended. The German armies are growing weaker while those of the Allies are growing stronger, thanks to the exhaustless supplies of men and materials that can be drawn from the United States, and out of such a condition there can come but one result. The Teutons know and have for a long time known on what terms they can have peace, and there is no cause for believing that the conditions will be changed. It will be hard for the power which imagined it could dominate the world to accept them, but the decision must come, and the Allied armies are hastening the time when it will have to be made.

The Kaiser and his chancellor have made it plain that the Central Powers are in distress and ready to hedge, but the rest they need and seek will not be forthcoming until they lay down their arms and bow their haughty heads to the inevitable. Then will come rest for them and rest for a war-weary world, and not before.

The reports show that there must be some bracing up in connection with the Liberty Loan if it is to be properly carried "over the top." And there will be. When the record of the preceding loans is recalled there is no reason to fear that the people are going to fall short of their duty in this instance. When the time limit expires the money will be there.

The troop ships are pretty densely populated when they sail, but it is to be noticed that they are kept going in spite of all warnings to avoid crowds in order to prevent the spread of the influenza. The explanation is that the country, having two evils to contend with, sees fit to give its first attention to the greater.

London calls Wilson's reply to Germany a masterpiece of "daylight diplomacy." After saving daylight as this country has been doing for some months past there ought to be enough for diplomatic uses. And it might be a good idea to chuck a little of it around in other corners of the public business.

The influenza has reached practically all parts of the country, for which reason it cannot be attributed to the climate or the weather. It is a disturbing and dangerous visitor, and the only decent thing about it is its tendency to move on after afflicting a community about so long.

A large man-eating shark was captured off the Massachusetts coast a few days ago and was sold to a Boston fish concern. And it probably never occurred to the people who ate it that they might unconsciously be guilty of cannibalism.

The conditions at Camp Devens are so improved that the recreation centers have again been opened. This is indeed cheering and it is to be hoped that as much may soon be said of every town and city in New England.

A piano was recently sent from London to Paris by airplane. Will the time ever come when planes instead of auto trucks will be used for moving?

JUDGMENT FOR TOWN OF YORK IN THREE CASES

Law Court's Decision in the Famous York Bridge Troubles.

The Maine law court at Augusta on Friday handed down decisions in connection with the famous York bridge case, in which judgment is for the town of York as plaintiff. The defendants being John C. Stewart, Frank D. Marshall and Edward H. Blaisdell.

Rescript, Cornish, C. J. In an action of assumpsit brought by an attorney to recover for professional services alleged to have been rendered the defendants between November 1, 1906, and April 25, 1908, in connection with the building of the York bridge, it is held—

1.—That the plaintiff, having failed to show that he was employed by the defendant town or by some duly authorized agent thereof, the entry must be judgment for defendants.

Edward H. Blaisdell vs. The Inhabitants of York.

Rescript, Cornish, C. J. In an action of assumpsit to recover $3,394.71 for plans and specifications for new bridge and way across York river, alleged to have been prepared and furnished by him as an "architect" to the special committee appointed by the town to construct the bridge, it is held—

1.—That the special committee elected another party as an engineer in connection with the work.

2.—That the plaintiff was the contractor in building the bridge and any preliminary plans or specifications prepared by him were prepared at his own instance and in his own interest in order to secure the contract, and not at the charge and expense of the town.

3.—That the special committee were dismissed by the town on March 11, 1907, and after that date the committee had no power to secure plans or specifications from the plaintiff at the expense of the town, even if any were in fact supplied.

Judgment for defendants.

John C. Stewart vs. Inhabitants of York.

Rescript, Cornish, C. J. In an action of assumpsit brought by an attorney to recover for professional services alleged to have been rendered to the defendants and for expenses incurred between November 17, 1906 and July 14, 1911, it is held—

1.—It was incumbent upon the plaintiff to show that he was employed by the defendant town or by some duly authorized agent thereof.

2.—The special committee appointed by the town on October 13, 1906, and dissolved on March 11, 1907, had no power during the term of their service nor afterwards to employ counsel at the expense of the town to take part in the litigation that arose over the construction of the bridge. It was no part of their duty and was beyond the scope of the power conferred upon them.

3.—It was the duty of the plaintiff to ascertain the extent of their power to bind the town and if the parties assuming to act did so without authority he cannot recover of the town.

4.—Moreover the evidence shows that in a part of the litigation, for which charges were made, the town of York was not a party, and in other cases where the town was a party, it was represented by other counsel, while the plaintiff appeared as counsel for the adverse party.

Judgment for defendants.

C., and after his visit there was in Massachusetts where the influenza has been so severe.

HOW THE HERALD SERVES

Like a flash spread a rumor Saturday evening that President Wilson had been shot. The Herald editor was besieged with telephone calls and the story was at once denied. Well, said a local minister, I understand a telegram has been received by a high official that it is so. I can't help it, responded the Herald man if it was so, the Associated Press would have informed us. To satisfy hundreds the "A. P." was called. "Nothing in it," was the response, but we have just put out the wire for you, Germany's acceptance of President Wilson's terms for peace. The Herald called the telephone office and "information" at the Central office and gave them the denial and the news. The above is simply an illustration of how the Herald serves holidays, Sundays and all time through the great Associated Press service.

NAVY YARD NEWS

Marines Have Good Band
The Marine Guard at the Portsmouth yard are delighted with the post band made up of 19 men from the ranks. This band under the direction of First Sergeant W. J. Fortune is the first to be organized from the ranks in the history of the station. This company on musicians take great interest in the work allotted to them and are now doing the honors for the guard in place of the Naval Band. In the short time it has been organized, the men have made a steady improvement and the people of this city will be pleased at the first opportunity to see and hear the new band in Portsmouth. So far the work of the band has been confined entirely to the yard.

Takes Another Job
John H. Clifford for several years a fireman at the Naval Prison, has been transferred to duty in the supply department.

Active on Liberty Loan
The total amount of the Liberty Loan at the yard up to Saturday was $147,750 with 76 3-10 of all the people at the yard subscribing. The marines of the military department were ahead again on Saturday in the amount subscribed and were again flying the flag, 194 3-10 per cent of the allotment has been subscribed. The drafting room building 81 leads the offices with 100 per cent of the force subscribing, 175 4-10 of their allotment is in.

The painters lead the shops of the yard with 92 1-2 per cent subscribing. Their allotment is $5650 and 124 6-10 of that amount has been subscribed. Of the industrial department as a whole 80 3-10 of the department are in on the subscriptions.

22 Women in the Call
The labor board made the following call today for the industrial department: 2 machinists, 1 chopper and chucker, 3 riggers, 1 painter, 1 molder, 1 chauffeur, 1 shipmill's helper, 2 female operators, 7 shipfitters' helpers, and 9 general helpers.

HOSPITALITY EXTENDED ENLISTED MEN

A party of enlisted men enjoyed the hospitality of the Girls' Patriotic League on Sunday and the pleasant environments at the John Paul Jones house were much appreciated. The young men provided articles, from which an appetizing supper was cooked under the supervision of Miss Frost, who is in charge of the cafeteria. Members of the Girls' Patriotic League assisted in preparing the lunch and in the evening marshmallows were roasted over the open grate and the visitors were made to feel the good cheer of the place.

It has been a lonely time on Sundays for many of the enlisted men since the ban was placed on public gatherings. The soldier and sailor lads whose custom it has been to attend church in this city on Sundays when off duty, have missed that privilege, even though realizing the need of closed church doors.

The Girls' Patriotic League is now carried on as a hostess house and the men in the service are welcome during the day and evening at any time and made to feel at home.

DR. FRED S. TOWLE.

In this time of universal mourning when tidings of the deaths of our loved ones are coming in battalions from overseas, when the dreaded influenza is claiming its thousands of victims among the young and the useful, when sea and sky are full of death and horror—when, in short, America, land of the nation to enter this world conflict, is coming to see the full measure of the costly sacrifice which she has vowed to lay upon the altar of Freedom in these most awful days of testing, the passing of Dr. Towle will bring a heavy additional burden upon the laden hearts of the people of Portsmouth and of the multitudes in other places who loved him.

His life was gentle, and the elements So mixed in him that Nature might stand up And say to all the world, This was a Man.

Outwardly large and commanding Dr. Towle's broad and noble and generous character conformed in all respects to his face and figure. Nobody who knew him could associate pettiness with him; on the other hand, his heart was as gentle and pitying as a child's, and his charity as boundless as the ocean. There was a wideness in his mercy like the wideness of the sea, and many a man and woman who had found himself or herself physically, mentally and morally derelict has grasped that friendly hand and been guided back to life and hope.

He was faithful, he was humble, he was wholly unselfish. He had a sensitive conscience, and he obeyed it. When the high call to leave all and go forth in the service of a great and righteous cause came to him, like Colonel Newcome, he simply answered "Present," and to that cause he has now given "the last full measure of devotion."

His family bless and mourn him. The state with which his life was closely associated for many years, has suffered an irreparable loss. The New Hampshire Medical Society, from whose presidency he had just retired, will feel deeply the loss of his noble and inspiring leadership. To countless homes and hearts in this region and elsewhere a sense of great and abiding sorrow has come.

But is there no comfort to be found in all this, nothing save a bitter sense of the intolerable wreck and waste of man? Surely, yes; as the Apostle says, "Much every way." For Dr. Towle was in a shining sense that good and faithful servant who all his life ceased not to feed the hungry, to clothe the naked, to visit those who were sick and in prison; and who will surely sit with the blessed at the King's high banquet. Those who are leaving houses and lands at this time to go forth under our starry flag to fight against the Hosts of Darkness, those are they—let us make no mistake—who follow in his train when "The Son of God goes forth to war." And the great Captain of Our Salvation will be mindful of His own.

CARS IN COLLISION.

An automobile with the New Hampshire license 14392, and owned by Kate Lely of Kittery Point, collided with the machine of Mayor S. W. Ladd, this forenoon at the corner of Middle and State streets. There was no serious damage, the cars being somewhat scared up from the contact.

Squirrel's Pathetic Search.

In moving some quilts in the cottage of Fred Hayden of Northwest Abbot, Me., five little squirrels were spotted on the floor, one of them being killed. The mother squirrel was quickly on the scene, taking care of it at a time and hustling upstairs with it. The fourth one she dropped at the foot of the stairs and rushed back with frantic haste, thoroughly looking over the contents of the room for the fifth one. She even climbed to the waists of the men and sniffed their hands in her search for her lost baby.—Boston Globe.

Horses Knew Allotted Task.

In the miles of Hahnault, horses that travel back and forth over a certain route exactly thirty times each day go to the stables of their own accord after their last trip, and refuse to take another step. In Montaigne's Essays it is stated that the oxen employed in the royal gardens of Spain for turning the wheels to which the water mills were attached refused to make more than the hundred rounds that constituted their daily task.

Made Money From Dandelions.

Collecting dandelions an Italian woman living in Philadelphia has been able to save $2,000 during the last 40 years. It appears that about forty years ago the woman's husband died, leaving his widow unprotected. She started to collect dandelions, and sold them to her countrymen in the city. A few days ago she died, and it was found that her savings had accumulated to a little more than $2,000.

One Spot Was All Right.

Robert was promised a nickel by his aunt if he kept clean when he went out to play, as company was expected and they wanted him to look his best. The tiny chap, however, got into a coal pile and was a sight to behold. His aunt said such a dirty boy would not get the nickel. Whatfully pulling out the lining of his wee pocket he said: "My pocket is clean, anyhow."

Peculiar Form of Cruelty.

Telling ghost stories was the charge brought against her husband by a woman seeking a divorce in Titchnock, County Waterford, Ireland. The woman asked for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. Questioned as to what her husband had done, the wife explained that her husband was always telling her stories to the effect that the ghost of his former wife haunted the house.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE FOR CAPTAIN TOWLE

Funeral Private But Thousands Follow Body to Cemetery and Attend Committal service

The funeral of Captain Frederick S. Towle, U. S. M. R. C., who lost his life while in the service of his country, was held at two o'clock Sunday from his home on Sinton street, and, while the services at the home necessarily were private owing to the effect of the Board of Health on public funerals, nevertheless it was a remarkable demonstration of the universal affection in which he was held by the people of this city, high and low, all creeds and nationalities, who all sought in their own way to pay their respects to one who in life was the friend of all.

There were hundreds about the house and who stood with bowed heads when the casket was brought from the house, thousands along the line of march and at least two thousand more at the cemetery for the committal services at the grave. It was not the idle curious, but those with grief over the untimely death of a truly great citizen and a friend of mankind.

The services at the house were confined to the immediate family and they were conducted by Rev. William L. Stanley, the pastor of the Baptist church and a close family friend of the deceased. He delivered a most eloquent eulogy on the life of Captain Towle, speaking of the intimacy that had come under his observation, of his unflinching willingness to help in any cause. He spoke of one incident of a man coming to him for help. He sent him to Dr. Towle, as he said, because he was the one who could help. In answer to the man's inquiry as to how he would know Dr. Towle, he replied: "Find a tall good looking man who is helping somebody and he will be Dr. Towle." Shortly after the man came back and said: "I found him from your description and he has also helped me." He referred to the work upon which he was engaged at the time of his death, the reconstruction of the wounded soldiers brought back from France, and of the great loss that he would be to that work, for he was of the disposition and the personality that make a man want to be useful and make the most of life.

A delegation from DeWitt Clinton Commandery, Knights Templar, also held their services at the house. The Portsmouth Medical Society attended in a body and they were the honorary pallbearers.

Captain Towle was given full military honors, the body reposing in a flag covered handsome casket of grey broadcloth, was borne from the house by eight soldiers from Fort Constitution, while outside the house was the military band with a company of men drawn up, who stood at salute while the body was being placed in the hearse, and then swung ahead of the funeral cortege. In addition to the Templars, who marched, there was a delegation from the Odd Fellows and from the Knights of Pythias, who marched along with many prominent citizens. It was an impressive procession to the Sagamore cemetery, the military band playing old appropriate hymns and all along the line thousands stood with bowed heads as the cortege passed.

At the cemetery the body was borne to the last resting place in the family lot, through the ranks of soldiers, while a great crowd stood in deep silence. Rev. C. L. V. Brine, pastor of Christ church, held a most impressive committal service at the grave and at the conclusion "Taps" was sounded by the bugler, and from the depths of the forest beyond the cemetery came back like an echo from the beyond, the answering call of "Taps."

There were many handsome floral pieces from different organizations and from friends and after all was over they covered his grave with color and beauty, typifying the life of the man who lay beneath in his last long sleep.

Mrs. Towle has received hundreds of telegrams and letters of sympathy from all over the state and from all parts of the country. The body of Captain Towle arrived from Colombia, N. J., on Saturday afternoon, accompanied by Captain Robert R. Sellers, U. S. A., who remained for the funeral services. Past Exalted Rulers E. L. Chaney, P. W. Hartford, Charles G. Long, Exalted Ruler W. J. Kennedy and James McCarthy of Portsmouth Lodge, B. P. O. E., met the body of Dr. F. S. Towle at the station and acted as a body guard. Undertaker J. Verne Wood was the funeral director.

STATE QUOTA FOR FORT CONSTITUTION

The local War Board have received a call for 37 men from this district to be called on October 22, and they will be sent to Fort Constitution for training. All of the men of this call from the entire state will be ordered to Fort Constitution.

The local Board have begun to receive the induction orders for various branches of the service, including the Marines and Navy, and as fast as the orders are received from the Provost Marshal General's office, the men are called for examination and if they pass the physical test, they are inducted into whichever branch they enlist in.

The Board will draw all of the men in the October 22 call from the June and August registrants and one or two of the old draft who by change of the law have been reclassified.

They have, however, made the classification of the 19 to 35 registrants of Sept. 12, but they have not adjusted the call and serial numbers as yet.

WILLING TO DO CORN HUSKING

The members of the Pattern Makers' Union are determined to help in the harvesting this fall and also have a little fun on the side. They have advertised in another column, for farmers who have a large barn and who want corn husking down that they will attend to the job. They make no condition about the red ears, but expect that the farmer will see that there are at least enough to go around.

WILSON OR WILHELM.

Just a word about this peace talk. Let us not commit the grave blunder of believing that Germany is hopelessly beaten and that it is only a question of a short time until they will discuss thus all activity. There is much to indicate that German leaders are maliciously plotting to develop over here the opinion that Germany is hopelessly beaten and is eager to listen to any proposals for peace. The whole idea is to check our intensity, to slacken our efforts, and most of all at this time to dampen our energy in putting the Fourth Liberty Loan over the top. Let's keep right on working with the same and with increased energy if possible. Let us listen to no words but those of the President. Let him be your leader. It is either Wilson or Wilhelm. Listen to this peace talk and you are listening to Wilhelm. Listen to Wilson and you will keep right on the job until the boys are sightseeing in Berlin.

SHATTUCK SHIP YARD NOTES

ODE TO NUMBER EIGHT

She may not be the best boat That's ever been on the ways And possibly better men than Frank and Art Were known in bygone days, But you'd better "watch your step" And be mighty full of pep Before you criticize or berate The speedy ship, that's number Eight.

He didn't look out for the "Dinky" Would be written on your tomb After McClellan's doughty gang Had finished polishing your dome— You'll excuse my cockiness I'm sure boys.

But I herewith plainly state That I intend to be here with bells on When they launch old number Eight.

Why, we know the looks of every keelson And every frame and beam, We've leveled, clamped, and tightened Every single seam. We've watched her magic building Since her first upstanding frame— Who would quit out before her launching?

No man wants that shame! So if in the coming days of peace, You sometimes wish to hang a picture up, A picture of a bold, good ship, While the children gasp and gape, And say with swelling chest: "I built her every stick and plank; She took so much across That the Kaiser halted with a 'Tank'."

Why, you'll stand by me and holler When I state— That I'm going to stand by you And holler at the launching of number Eight.

ROY H. BEATTIE COMPLETED.

The Roy H. Beattie sailed down the river Wednesday afternoon on her way to Portland. She will join her sister ship, the Chilodius, there. In a short time her boiler will be installed and she will be delivered to the United States Government for service. The Roy H. Beattie was a pretty boat. Freshly painted, and entirely equipped with the exception of her boilers, she was an imposing sight as she passed along the Piscataqua in front of the ways. The men cheered themselves hoarse as she passed their stations. It was not without regret that the workmen released their charge to the waiting tug. However, they are expecting big things of their good old "Number 2" and there is little doubt but that their expectations will be realized.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

The following advertisement issued by the Department of Labor is hereby reproduced for the benefit of our readers:

"Workmen of America, what did we promise Our Boys in France?" "Just this: That every minute of the day, every time they went into a trench, every time they went over the top, in a night patrol, every time they swept forward to smash a German trench, every time they risked themselves for the sake of Liberty and America, that we'd be back of them to the last ditch, giving for them, fighting for them in our factories to give them all 'tools' they need to lick the Kaiser."

"There is only one way to make good on that promise—and that is for every last one of us, regardless of the job we hold, be it big or little, to put in every minute of his working day where it does the most good. Every working minute lost or wasted means less help for our men across the sea."

"And there are not just minutes but whole days lost every time a man changes his job. A man has to be found to replace him. He loses time in moving. He takes time to catch on to the ways in the new plant."

"Every time a man changes jobs the country may lose (in money value): 5 rifles, 10 H. E. shells, 5 uniforms, 1000 cartridges, 10 pairs shoes, 50 hand grenades."

"It is a loss that can never be made man's moving, if he goes to another up. For it represents time lost in breaking the man on his new job. It represents time lost in finding a man for the job left open and in training him. It represents idle time for a machine. It makes a gap in the steady flow of supplies that the boys in France must have to thrash the Kaiser."

"The machine gun has stopped for a time in its task of spitting bullets at the Hun perhaps because the workman has stopped for a time spitting 'working minutes' at the Hun. And it's the 'working minutes' that make possible the soldiers' bullets."

"Think of that side of it—men and manufacturers both!"

"The 'Boys Over There' will give a good account of themselves if we give them the right support. Buy Bonds."

the firing line, more supply workers to make secure the men in camp and trench, more doctors and nurses to care for the wounded, more food and clothing and comforts for our forces abroad, and more vital assistance to our associates in the war."

Secretary Daniels: "We need more ships and every man who drives the more ships where one has been driven before is a public benefactor."

Secretary McAdoo: "The one thing most needed now by America's soldiers and sailors is ships. It is the men working in the shipyards upon whom the nation must rely to build these ships in time. What a splendid privilege and opportunity these men have to save democracy. What a fearful calamity to the world it would be if they fail to turn these ships out in time."

The need for ships is plain and stands out well in all of the foregoing statements. Do you, as Americans helping in the fight for democracy, feel your obligation to your brothers who on the battlefields of France are giving their all? Ships must be built, and to that end we all must strive. Every man must be on his job every day—not an hour should be lost. You workmen can prevent waste of time by being careful in your work and avoiding accidents. By practicing "SAFETY FIRST" you will prevent pain and suffering, loss of time, in building ships, also the loss of part of your wages, as the State Compensation Law only requires that a part of your wages be paid for time lost due to accidents. In the State of Pennsylvania during the year 1916, 255,916 men were either killed or injured by industrial accidents. Just think of it! The loss is far greater than that of the allied armies, considering the number of men involved. You say accidents are unavoidable? They are when men are CARELESS. As figures have shown that 90 percent of the accidents are due to carelessness. A careless workman is not wanted. He is dangerous to his fellow workmen and exposes himself to many dangers that may cost him his life or land him in the hospital, from which he is liable to come out a cripple. Employers do not want men to be injured. WHY SHOULD YOU TAKE A CHANCE? THINK IT OVER, THEN THINK IT OVER AGAIN, AND AGAIN AND AGAIN; let it sink in. What an enormous amount of suffering can be prevented by you men! How much faster can that need for ships be met by practicing that habit of THINKING FIRST—SAFETY FIRST. KID CARELESSNESS. WITH CARELESSNESS killed and all working with the idea of "SAFETY FIRST" ships can be built faster and the Hun will be beaten sooner.—George F. Kenny, District Safety Engineer, District No. 1, Emergency Fleet Corporation.

Miss McClellan, the nurse who is caring for gripe patients is meeting with great success in her work, and to her watchfulness and care is due in large measure the low percentage of illness in hotel and camps, while Mrs. King at the hospital looks out for the yard patients in a scientific manner. MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomachic saurs, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Better order the Herald saved for you at the news stand or from the boy. All sold out is the word at all agencies every evening. The Herald is the people's popular paper—stands for Portsmouth.

FIRST COAL FOR THE PEOPLE IS ON WAY HERE

Government Acts Quickly on Appeal of Navy Yard Officers.

The National Fuel Administration has notified the Navy Department that the first shipment of coal for the people of Portsmouth is now on its way to this city.

Today Rear Admiral C. J. Boush, Commandant of the yard and General Manager L. S. Adams of the Industrial Department, received telegraphic notification that two barges and 50 cars of anthracite coal had started from the south. This is quick work on the part of the government in response to the requests of the Portsmouth navy yard heads made not more than ten days ago. The government at once realized what the situation would be in this city with a coal shortage and to what extent it would interfere with the work at the navy yard and ship building plants and lost no time to comply with the wishes of the naval officials.

This is certainly good news to the people of Portsmouth who cannot but help appreciate the spirit shown by the government through the efforts of the above named officials of the navy yard.

The coal will be handled and distributed through the local coal dealers to the consumers.

The first time in Portsmouth's history and probably in the annals of American history a military funeral was given a woman and Mrs. Norton is worthy of this signal honor. An escort of fourteen sailors with rifles and a bugle, and eight lady yeowomen as pall bearers made this a spectacular and notable ceremony. The yeowomen were, the Misses Hope Akeman, Marion J. Condon, Beatrice M. Tuttle, Margaret B. Price, Jessie W. Perkins, Florence C. O'Keefe, Una Badger and Mrs. Elsie A. Wendell. After the services at the Chapel the procession headed by the fourteen sailors proceeded to Congress street, thence to Vaughan street and to the U. S. M. Station where the body was placed aboard the 11:00 o'clock train for Boston. The yeowomen marched along side the body to the station as guard of honor.

Final interment was made in Woodlawn Cemetery in Boston and an impressive ceremony was given. After the minister's words the bugle and rifles, while the yeowomen stood at attention, saluting, rendered the final honor to this beloved woman of the Naval Service.

She has lived at Kittery Point for the past year, coming there from Fannmouth, her former home. She held a position in Dore's Ice Cream and Confectionary store in this city for the past year. Miss Clark was taken ill with the influenza and later pneumonia developed.

POLICE COURT

Six young men were before the court today charged with gambling. They pleaded not guilty. The case grew out of the arrest made on Sunday when the police got Sam Mara, Bartoli Parize, Dominick Ballarini, John Frank, Peter Scarnito and Tony Great on the Appleboro dock.

The officers say there was a crap game going on and the defendants say there was no game. They had several adibis and were there only as a social gathering and to view the scenery along the river front. The police said that the perpendicular and horizontal movements of the arms and the human circle that was formed on the wharf indicated that something besides river front scenery was interesting the sextette and that there were two or three who escaped from the spectators gallery when the barrage opened. The court settled it up for the costs which were $7.00 each.

Another case of two men charged with assault was settled out of court.

DESPONDENT WITH GRIPPE, TAKES HER LIFE

Woman Dies From Wounds Inflicted With Knife on Saturday.

Suffering from despondency caused by illness due to influenza, Mrs. Nellie Dorr, aged 23, wife of Horace P. Dorr, an employee of the navy yard, inflicted wounds to her throat with a knife on Saturday which caused her death this morning.

Mrs. Dorr, who has been seriously ill at her home on New Castle avenue on Saturday asked her husband for a small knife to cut her finger nails and later when he was absent from the room took the opportunity to inflict several wounds in her throat, which later proved fatal.

Mrs. Dorr was the daughter of Charles Foster of Newburyport, Mass., and the family has resided in this city for the past year. She was a woman much respected and the only cause for her rash act is the nervous condition she was in brought on by her serious illness. She leaves besides her husband two children, one aged four years and another 18 months.
